

AWAI's Brand-New Mentoring Program through Circle of Success

It's an undisputed fact ...

A professional mentor can have a dramatic impact on your writing career ...

A "friend in the business" ... an ally ... someone to champion your success and guide you through every step of your learning journey ... to help you identify and land clients ...

That's why AWAI's brand-new mentoring program has quickly become such an enormous success.

It's a true testament to what an outstanding "fraternity" the copywriting community is.

More than a dozen copywriters and marketers so far — some of the best in our business — have stepped up and offered to work directly with new AWAI writers to help them achieve the highest possible level of success.

Says professional copywriter and AWAI graduate Pam Foster, who heads up our first-ever mentoring program ...

"It's been absolutely remarkable. These folks — these mentors — they know the struggles, the worries, and the challenges new writers face because they've been there before. And they want to help in any way they can."

AWAI's new mentoring program is very simple.

It's offered exclusively to members of Circle of Success — our highest level of learning.

The relationship begins immediately with a "Career Action Plan," where you and your personal mentor decide together, one-on-one, which writing path best suits your interests and your personality ... taking into account any experience you might have.

From there, your mentor will build you a personalized "learning plan" — a list of recommended programs and courses and the order in which you should take them.

From time to time, you'll meet to review your plan, update your status, make any changes, discuss your progress ...

All along the way, you can contact your mentor when you need direction, guidance, or just some old-fashioned encouragement.

"Like a lifeline you can call anytime," is how one AWAI member described it.

We created this program because we've long known that many of the most successful writers we know once had mentors they could turn to.

But it's only now that our network is large enough that we can bring enough of the most qualified writers and marketers "in-house" — and offer this invaluable benefit to our most ambitious members on a consistent basis.

If you're ready to experience the enormous boost personal mentoring can give your writing career, I urge you to check out Circle of Success before the 2016 membership session ends a few days from now.

Remember, Circle of Success is for AWAI members who are serious about a career in copywriting.

Besides being the only place you can get personalized mentoring at no added cost — COS offers the fastest learning path and the most access to high-level writers, marketers, publishers, and businesses looking to hire new writers.

You can get all the details here now.

Just remember, the door to new membership closes on Tuesday, November 8th at midnight.
